APPEAL POLICE CASE

Locomotive Engineers Continue Fight on Captains.

DISPLEASED WITH VERDICT

Commissioners Will Be Asked to Fix Penalty on Capt. Mulhall and Increase that Against Mathews. Acts of the Officers Explained in the Majority Report of Board.

Charles E. Bendheim, attorney for the local Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, will today appeal to the Commissioners in the case of Capt. W. H. Mathews and Capt. J. E. Mulhall, who, by the findings of the police trial board (James F. Francis Smith, chairman, dissenting), are exonerated of the charges preferred against them in connection with the death of Engineer Hugh Murphy, who was killed in a wreck on the Southern Railway in this city September 11 last.

The appeal will be based on the act of 1906, which provides that "the Commissioners shall be authorized and empowered to fine, suspend, with or without pay, and dismiss any officer of said police force for any offense against the laws of the United States or the laws and ordinances of the District of Columbia; provided, that no person shall be removed from said police force except upon written charges preferred against him in the name of the major and superintendent of police for the trial board or boards, hereafter provided for, and after an opportunity shall have been afforded him to appear in his defense."

The Commissioners are also empowered to reduce or modify the penalty of the trial board, or remand any case against any officer or member of the police force to the board for such further proceedings as they may deem necessary.

Can Change Penalty.

Mr. Bendheim will contend that under this act the Commissioners may provide a penalty in the case of Capt. Mulhall, who is completely exonerated, and increase the penalty recommended in the case of Capt. Mathews, who is found guilty of the charge of having struck Capt. W. A. Dixon, of the fire department, such action being deemed unbecoming a member of the police force.

After a resume of the testimony, which is characterized as "voluminous, confusing, and contradictory," the following statement is made in the majority report submitted by Inspectors John A. Swindells and Francis E. Cross:

"It is apparent that the excitement in the vicinity of the wreck was intense, that great confusion prevailed, that a large majority of the persons attracted to the scene were there for the purpose of viewing the wreck rather than to render aid, and that they were so obstructing the street as to seriously interfere with the attempted work of rescue. The accident occurred at night, and it being dark, lanterns were needed and used to enable those working to get a view of the wreck, and persons could not be easily recognized; consequently, the police could not readily distinguish between railroad men, firemen, and others. Many doubtless took advantage of that fact, and added to the confusion by repeatedly endeavoring to secure and maintain a place within the prescribed area after having been put back by the officers."

Interfere with Police.

"New arrivals were continually augmenting the assemblage, and, being caught to gratify their curiosity, were a factor in keeping up the excitement and adding to the onerous duties of the police. It, therefore, became necessary for the police to adopt such measures for clearing and keeping clear a place about the wrecked engine which under ordinary conditions they might not have been justified in using."

"The statement of several witnesses that they were ordered away or forcibly removed from the vicinity of the engine cab by Capt. Mathews or Lieut. Mulhall, while actually engaged in working the jacks or other implements, except at the time of the approach or arrival of the wreck train, is inconsistent with the general trend of the testimony for the prosecution."

It is in evidence that at a particularly trying moment when Engineer Murphy was released and was about to be placed on a stretcher, and a great mass of persons was pressing forward and the combined efforts of the police were required to keep the crowd back and open a way for the men with the stretcher—Capt. Mathews was clutched by the arm, and he struck with his fist the person who held him, evidently for the sole purpose of being quickly released that he might continue the performance of his duty unhindered. The person struck proved to be Capt. Dixon, of the fire department. An explanation and apology immediately followed, which, in our opinion, mitigates the offense and appears to have been entirely satisfactory to Capt. Dixon, who made no charge against Capt. Mathews."

Annoyance Meeting Wednesday.

In a letter to the Commissioners, Charles R. Barr, secretary of the Anacostia Citizens' Association, announces that the meeting of the association, to which Commissioner Macfarland has accepted an invitation, will be held Wednesday evening, June 12, at the parish hall of the Emmanuel Episcopal Church, corner of Washington and Fillmore streets.

DEFENDS PRESIDENT CABRERA

Minister Herrarte Says Guatemalan Executive Is No Monster.

Intends No Reprisals in Return for Attempted Assassination—Compared with Mr. Roosevelt.

Minister Herrarte, of Guatemala, is indignant over the reports which charge that his government is attempting to perpetrate outrages on humanity in reprisal for the recent attempt to assassinate President Cabrera.

"It would seem," says Minister Herrarte, in a statement issued from the Guatemalan Legation yesterday, "that a deliberate effort is being made to prejudice public opinion in the United States against the administration of the government of Guatemala. The design evidently is to depict President Cabrera as an inhuman monster, whose agents inflict indescribable tortures upon men, women, and children of families that happen to be opposed in opinion to his administration. In addition to being charged with responsibility for cruelties that would have been repulsive in the darkest ages of history, he is accused of oppressing labor and of inviting famine for a million of people by a conscription of 60,000 men for an army."

"The truth is that the entire administration of President Cabrera has been devoted to the development of the resources of Guatemala, through the increase of its peaceful property, and to the promotion of its industry. He resembles remarkably President Roosevelt in that he advocates work as the true source of individual happiness and of national welfare. Instead of torturing people, his conduct of the government has been directed patiently and persistently toward their elevation and improvement, through the development of the country and through education. He has introduced into Guatemala and blended with Latin-American traditions and customs more so-called Anglo-Saxon ideas, perhaps the head of any other independent Spanish speaking nation upon this continent."

TWO GRANTED DIVORCES.

One Other Woman Sues for Separation Alleging Infidelity.

Justice Gould yesterday granted an absolute divorce to Mrs. Annie C. Childs from Alexander A. Childs. Mrs. Olive McBridge was also given a decree of absolute divorce from Lawrence B. McBridge. Infidelity was alleged in the petition.

Mrs. Fannie W. Waite yesterday began suit for absolute divorce against Frank H. Waite. They were married June 13, 1888, in Frederick, Md., and later removed to this city. Infidelity is alleged, and a correspondent is named Mrs. Waite, through Attorneys Wilson and Barksdale, says that for a number of years past she has been employed in the Government Printing Office, but that she recently lost her place and now desires her husband to be compelled to contribute to her support. Mrs. Waite also petitions the court to enjoin the defendant from in any way annoying or molesting her.

LUNACY INQUIRY FOR WAGNER

Court Grants Request for Examination of Aged Man.

The request of Attorney Walter P. Plimley, that a lunacy inquiry be had into the mental condition of prisoner Wagner, recently convicted of perjury, was granted by Justice Stafford yesterday. The inquiry will follow upon the conclusion of the Holmes case.

Wagner is nearly seventy years of age and is alleged to have filed thousands of suits against the Adams Express Company and others in Maryland and Virginia. He is also alleged to have counterfeited the seals of the Secretary of State of the United States and of Maryland to assist him in prosecuting a claim before Congress.

Request $12,000 Allotment.

The Commissioners announced that the request will be given consideration.
